Dear Mr. President,

You could have your wall paid for, create 1.7 million new American jobs, and generate $210 billion for states to spend on education, healthcare, courts and enforcement.

It's a simple proposal — and at the core is a 10-year special work permit for unauthorized immigrants, many of whom have badly needed journeyman skills in infrastructure, construction, farming and food processing.

We propose that these immigrants, men and women, be issued the work permits on condition that they pay the small amount of 5 percent of their wages, which will be matched by their employers.

I ask that you direct the Ways and Means Committee to write a bill based on the proposal described on this web page (<http://immigranttaxgroup.org/solution/>), have it scored by the CBO, and protect U.S. Taxpayers from the unfair burdens placed on them by our presently broken immigrant tax policies.

All the Best,

Mark Jason, Director

Mark Jason, Director of ITIG (Immigrant Tax Inquiry Group) is a former Special Agent for the Internal Revenue Service. He served as a budget analyst for the California State University System, and as a consultant for the Mexican government. Over the past several years, Mark developed a 100-acre farm near Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, which produces more than 350 tons of honeydew melons annually for the United States. He did this to create local jobs and teach modern farming techniques to this area of need. His education, his diverse experience in accounting, economics and farm management, and his years of cross-border work have led him to focus on immigration reform in America. His third way immigration project, developed by a 'think tank' team, was seven years in the making. He currently resides in Malibu, California.
